Easy Order!

The new and easy way to your conference support:

You probably know the situation as well. You need a little bite to eat for a business meeting but do not know what your guests prefer. Furthermore, time is limited and you might be glad someone is helping you with the selection.

This is the reason we revised our catering menu and invented Easy Order. Easy Order symbolizes a complete conference package which you order for the desired number of persons.

It is still possible to ask for individual offers but with Easy Order we would like to simplify the selection for you.

The vitality of our guests and the freshness of our products are very important for us.

As you desired we now offer more extraordinary and nutritious products with our vital snacks.

General Information

Allgemein

Modification or changes of your orders are possible; please look for the latest version of the order sheet. If needed please ask at delicio Office-Catering.

There is no standard declaration of ingredients or allergenic information with the food items due to the individual prepared conference packages. If you need this information please contact delicio Office-Catering.

Order & Delivery

Caterings for conferences, meetings & more:

For order request on short term notice we need to know at least 2 days in advance until 10am (for example: order day A until 10am = delivery day C in the morning).

If this time period is already passed you need to get in touch by phone with delicio Office-Catering. It is possible that we can't guarantee every component of your order.

Major Events:

Don't hesitate to contact us with your catering wishes in time. Ideally 2 months until 14 days ahead.

We need to know the exact number of participants 5 days before the big event due to accounting standards.

Services are based on our general terms and conditions; we will send you upon request. All stated prices are to be understood to the actual valid legal value added tax.
